Isaac acts for claimants and defendants in all aspects of personal injury including road traffic accidents, employer's liability, occupier's liability, product liability, and public liability. Isaac has been instructed in several large multi-party actions arising from concussive head injuries in football and rugby.

The majority of Isaac's personal injury instructions arise from road traffic accidents.

Isaac is generally instructed in serious and catastrophic injury cases, particularly those involving brain injuries.

Many of Isaac's instructions for defendants involve allegations of fraud, or indemnity issues (see below).
